

Powell's article on D&H minutes

Name: Rick Sedlisky

Email Address: NJRicky2@aol.com

Subject: Delaware & Hudson Books of Minutes

Message: Hello Dr. Powell,

Your article about the discovery of D&H Books of Minutes in California piqued my interest. Last year I wrote a three-part series about the D&H to commemorate the company's 200th anniversary. The series was published in History Bytes, the bi-monthly e-newsletter published by the Lackawanna Historical Society. I'm the editor of the newsletter.

I'd very much like to include your article on the D&H books of minutes in History Bytes. Because of the important role D&H played in our region's development, I think our readers would enjoy reading about the books of minutes that were found.

If we have your permission to reprint the article, it will be reprinted as it appears on the Carbondale Historical Society website. Both you and the Society will of course be credited. We'll also include a link to the Carbondale Historical Society's website.

Please let me know if we have your permission to reprint the article.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

All the best,

Rick Sedlisky

On Monday, August 19, 2024 at 11:15:46 AM EDT, S. Robert Powell <srp18407@gmail.com> wrote:

August 19

Rick:

Yes, you have my permission to reprint the article on the D&H Minutes books.

See attached files.

Robert

njricky2@aol.com

4:5
5 P
M

to SRP

Robert:

Thanks very much for granting us permission to include your article on the D&H Board of Directors Minutes in History Bytes. It will appear in the September - October 2024 issue, which is expected to be released around Labor Day. I'm sure people will appreciate learning that another part of our region's history is in safe hands.

As you read the minutes, if you see things that you think would be of interest to the readers, please let me know and we'll include your findings in upcoming issues of History Bytes.

All the best,

Rick